

Between the Lines of ADA Compliance

Earn 4.0 CES/HSW learning units

Unit 1:

- Understanding the gray areas of access compliance regulations
- Minimize liability by understanding the differences between the federal ADA and the 2007 CBC
- Understand why a building permit or a resolved law suit does not guarantee a barrier-free facility
- Funding barrier removal with Tax Credited and Tax Deductions

Unit 2:

- Review of 2007 CBC revisions to access compliance regulations
- Access regulations; Chapter 11A & 11B, 2007 CBC

Unit 3:

- Access regulation Chapter 10, 2007 CBC
- The value of an ADA-compliant "Self Evaluation & Transition Plan"

Unit 4:

- Understanding ADA legal requirements beyond physical barriers
- Know the differences of the ADA requirements for Title II (public) entities & Titles III (private) entities
- Understanding the basics of the Fair Housing Laws

November 10, 2009

7:30 am - 1:00 pm

Members $159

Non-Members $269

REGISTER ONLINE AT

www.agcsd.org

Instructor: Greg Izor, AIA

Principal Architect

Mr. Izor is the Principal Architect and Owner of an architectural consulting firm in Escondido, California. In the twenty-eight years of operating his own architectural firm, Mr. Izor has provided services for a wide variety of projects, and won several design awards. He is experienced in all phases of architectural services for residential, commercial, industrial, and institutional projects in both the private and public sector. Mr. Izor is also experienced in providing access compliance reviews and expert testimony in construction related litigation and arbitration.

Location: AGC-SD 6212 Ferris Square, San Diego Ca 92121 Contact Glen Schaffer at 858-558-7444 ext 108 for more information.