

AGC SAN DIEGO

CONSTRUCTION PROJECT MANAGEMENT 26-Week Certificate Program

This 26-week certificate program, spanning a full year, is facilitated by Paul Stout of Power Summit. Paul develops, produces, and presents educational programs for construction professionals across America. He also, regularly assists project teams by facilitating important project events like Partnering meetings. His background includes 23 years of working experience as both a subcontractor and prime contractor within the construction industry.

The AGCSD Project Management course offers the best of Paul's presentations, while also reaching beyond, into the A/E/C community to bring successful project managers, executives, and designers who present specialized topics. Participants learn through a variety of methods to develop essential skills toward becoming the very best construction project managers for their respective firms.

2019 will mark the 15th offering of this dynamic course. Many companies have elected to use this course as a prerequisite to promotions, raises, and bonuses.
